Intimate Glimpses Into District Happenings as Seen By Roving Reporters

Will the United States bot $10,000 on the life of a man sentenced to the electric chair?

This was the question which faced officials of the Veterans' Bureau recently when they received an application from a former service man, condemned to death, to reinstate his insurance policy.

The application was properly executed and signed. The physical examination showed the applicant to be in a healthy condition and likely to live for years. According to the insurance law there was nothing to bar the reinstatement.

According to bureau officials, however, the sentence of the court was more than a dozen months, and in view of the discretionary power lodged with the director the claim was denied.

"Mmmm," observed a bureau official looking at the report of the physical examination, "what irony." And he slipped the paper back into the file.

As a constant reminder to school children of the Georgetown and Clideworth sections, automatic slot machines containing stamps varying in value from 1 to 25 cents, which entitle the receiver to the value of the stamp as an account in the Potomac Savings Bank of Georgetown, have been installed in eight schools of that community. Cards with the spaces on which to attach the stamps to the value of a dollar bear interest. Almost all of the pupils invest a part of their change from their lunches in stamps. Each machine dispenses daily business of about $6, according to B. A. Bowles, cashier of the bank. The following schools have machines: Hyde, Fillmore, Jackson, Curtis, Tenley, Conduit, Corcoran, and Addison.

CITIZENS OF S. W. LAYING PLANS FOR RED LETTER NIGHT

Dramatic Club Will Present Play at Section's Gala Event.

Preparations for the "Red Letter" night to be held within the next two weeks in Southwest, under the auspices of the South Washington Citizens' Association, are nearing completion and many of the entertainments have already been secured.

According to the president of the South Washington Citizens' Association the night will be a gala event and only Southwest talent will be seen—people who are now residents of Southwest or have at some time resided in the riverside section—will perform.

Invitations will be extended to former residents of the section who have either left the city or moved to other sections.

The Southwest Dramatic Club has performed at some of the largest nonprofessional theatrical functions in the city, according to the proud residents of the section near the Potomac, and will render either a light drama or a comedy.

Many other Southwest organizations have expressed their willingness to perform on "Southwest Night," which indicates the interest manifest in the community event, those in charge stated.

The membership committee is working in conjunction with the entertainment committee and will take advantage of the anticipated large attendance to sign new members for the civic organization.

GOBLINS, GHOSTS AND WITCHES HOLD MYSTIC SWAY IN CAPITAL

Halloween Parties More Numerous and Over Greater Period Than Formerly

Halloween, with a full observance of all its traditional charm and rites, is holding sway over Washington more extensively and for a longer period this year than previously.

For the past two or three days children and grown-ups have given themselves over to a celebration of the time when spirits throng the air in fantastic forces. Many costume parties and masquerade dances already have been held and it is apparent that there will be no cessation of festivities for two or three days to come.

Halloween, a custom as old as the hills, was observed originally just the one night before All Saints' Day, but the period of its celebration has been extended gradually, as can be noted here in Washington. The Halloween masquerade dance of Kalidiah Grotto Band and Drill Corps will be held in the New Willard Hotel tomorrow night. There will be continuous dancing and prizes for costume.

Jerseyites to Celebrate.
The New Jersey State Society will celebrate Halloween with a masquerade dance in the oak room of the Raleigh Hotel tomorrow night. All Jerseyites and their friends are invited.

A dance tonight at its clubrooms, 22 Jackson place northwest, will mark the observance of Halloween by the Women's City Club. Many children throughout the city will gather Tuesday afternoon to meet the Halloween witches and goblins in the playgrounds, and of which will be out in full force of Georgetown playground, Thirty-third and Volta place northwest, Montrose playground at Lover's lane and B street northwest, and Mitchell Park playground, Twenty-third and S street northwest.

A night hike and oyster roast will feature Halloween for the Rumbler Pastime Club. The party will leave at 8 p. m. from Thirty-ninth and M streets northwest tomorrow night.

Nurses and physicians of Casualty Hospital will hold a Halloween party today at St. James' Episcopal Church, Eighteenth between B and C streets northeast.

Nurses Have Party.

IS ON THE ROAD TO RECOVERY

Has Been a Long-Time Sufferer From Constipation, Stomach and Kidney Troubles—Dreco, the New Herbal Remedy, Gave Relief.

"For years I've suffered from a bad case of stomach trouble, constipation, pains in my back and aching my limbs," says Mrs. Catherine Cornell, of Vassar, Mich., a lady who is extremely popular in her home town.

MRS. CATHERINE CORNELL

"My food would sour in my stomach and gas would bloat me up. I had heavy, dull, aching pains in my back over my kidneys, constipation was a daily menace and my nerves were shattered. My sleep was broken and did not rest me and my appetite had about failed. I became so weak I could barely carry my own weight around. Although I've taken many different medicines none helped much until I took Dreco, the new herbal remedy. The second day after I started on Dreco I felt better, and have continued to improve ever since. The constipation has passed off. My food digests well and does not swell up my stomach. I have no more pains in my back and my sleep is sound and refreshing. I can now live in comfort whereas life before was a burden."

Many people are daily testifying to the good results of Dreco treatment in cases of weak kidneys, sluggish liver, poor digestion, gas, rheumatism and constipation.

Dreco is being specially introduced by the O'Donnell's Drug Store, 604 5th St. N. W.
